About Harrison

Founded in 1869, Harrison, Arkansas, is nestled in the scenic Ozark Mountains in Boone County. Named after L. LaRue Harrison, a Union officer and surveyor, the town developed as a thriving trading post and transportation hub due to its strategic location along major roads and rail lines. Today, Harrison continues to serve as a central hub for shopping, dining, and entertainment for surrounding towns and counties. It has also become a favorite destination for road-trippers, motorcycle enthusiasts, and outdoor adventurers drawn to the natural beauty of the Buffalo National River and the rolling Ozark hills.

Why This Matters to You

By spotlighting the heart of Harrison, we share an authentic and vibrant representation of our city—one that reaches locals and visitors alike with informative and entertaining content. This effort reinforces that Harrison is a community committed to opportunity, growth, and collaboration, now and in the future.

Editor's Picks of HARRISON / BOONE COUNTY: ATTRACTIONS

The Lyric Theater

Located on the historic downtown Harrison Square, the Ozark Arts Council has led the way for a revitalized area of the city with live music, comedy shows, plays, musicals and of course, special movie screenings. The facade with it's beautiful neon marquee is worth of a picture day alone.

The Boone County Heritage and Railroad Museum

Hundreds of collections and exhibits on three floors include a railroad showroom, genealogy records and library, Civil War exhibit, Mountain Meadows Massacre collection, VFW collection, medical room exhibit, an old post office and much more.

Maplewood Cemetery:

For a serene experience, visit Maplewood Cemetery, especially in the fall when the maple trees transform the grounds into a tapestry of vibrant reds, oranges, and yellows. It's a peaceful spot that showcases nature's beauty and offers a moment of reflection

Southward Bound: Discoveries to the South

1. Buffalo National River: A short drive south leads to the Buffalo National River, America's first national river. Here, visitors can indulge in activities like canoeing, hiking, and wildlife watching amidst stunning limestone bluffs and serene waters.
2. Ponca Nature Center: South of the 72601, the Ponca Nature center is not so tucked away on HWY 43.

Managed by the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, the center educates visitors about local wildlife, particularly the Arkansas elk. The center features exhibits, an aquarium, and multimedia presentations about the re-establishment of elk in Arkansas. It also provides outdoor spaces for relaxation and offers educational programs. Located near the Buffalo National River, the center offers access to various outdoor activities. Admission is free. Learn more by tapping HERE. Or visiting: agfc.com

3. Jasper, Arkansas: This quaint town offers a charming downtown area with local eateries and shops. Nearby, the Arkansas Grand Canyon provides breathtaking vistas, especially vibrant during the fall season.
4. Mystic Caverns: Located near Marble Falls, these caverns offer guided tours showcasing intricate formations and a rich history, making it a subterranean adventure worth undertaking.

5. Hemmed-In Hollow Falls: Accessible via hiking trails or the Buffalo River, this 209-foot waterfall is the tallest between the Rockies and the Appalachians, offering a rewarding sight for those who make the trek.

6. Lost Valley Trail: This popular hiking trail near Ponca leads adventurers through lush forests, past natural bridges, and to Eden Falls, a picturesque waterfall tucked within the Ozarks.

Serious consideration: Satellite Communication Devices

Believe it or not, there are still places on Earth where cellphone service isn't available. Many areas in Newton County, Arkansas have this issue. Then again, it's a place to go to get away from it all, right? Still, we highly recommend putting your safety first before your next outdoor and off the grid adventure. These are some of the top rated satellite based communication tools that could be the things that save a life, be it your or someone you love.

Your Safety Net, Beyond Cell Service.

ZOLEO provides global satellite messaging, 24/7 SOS, and location sharing, giving you peace of mind on every adventure. With a dedicated SMS number and long battery life, you'll stay connected and safe, no matter where you go.

Unleash Your Natural Imagination
in an Artificial Landscape.

"Embracing the SPARK" is a transformative journey through self-discovery with a destination of creative expression that has been in you all along."

Identify. Nurture. Apply. Thrive!

In these pages I share how you can:

Identify your SPARK and delve into its significance in our lives.

Nurture your SPARK and overcome self doubt and fear.

Apply your SPARK to all aspects of personal and professional life.

Thrive for the rest of your life thanks to what no
machine can ever replicate:

YOUR SPARK!
